

~ Youth Video Projects ~

Empowering youth with tools to address their concerns, dispel media stereotypes, and bridge employment gaps for minorities in the media is an investment in ALL our futures.

"Daydreamz' approach is unconventional, pairing Expressive Arts explorations, with technical training, and civic responsibility."

The project builds youth self-esteem, communication, teamwork, job skills, and relationships with community members and leaders.

It also introduces youth to creative writing for scripts, sketching storyboards, designing sets/ props/ and costumes, acting, video and photo composition, dramatic reading for narration, music composition, as well as computer skills for graphics/ titles/ transitions/ and editing.

Focusing on issues that youth feel need to be addressed in their communities and society as a whole, empowers them to become active citizens.

the building community
DAYDREAMZ
project
thru creativity
po box 11873 / denver, co 80211
(303) 927-6978

www.daydreamzproject.org

Photos from our fall 2000 project screened in 2001: Sundance Film Festival - Youth category, & Cambridge National Youth Festival.